

TITOLO TESI: Sistema di rifugi, per la fruizione degli spazi alti dei Monti Sibillini

Relatore: prof. Marco D'annunziis

Correlatore: prof. ssa Sara Cipolletti

I monti Sibillini si estendono tra Marche ed Umbria, terre piene di risorse ambientali e storico-artistiche utilizzate principalmente per l'agricoltura e la pastorizia, con qualche picco di turismo nel 1400, grazie alla sua visione mistica. L'idea progettuale è quella di valorizzare questo territorio in modo responsabile e consapevole, sfruttando tutte le potenzialità che esso offre, soprattutto nell'alta quota, vista in passato come limite. Individuando all'interno di quest'area circa 70 strutture, utilizzate in passato soprattutto per la pastorizia e in piccoli casi anche per alpinismo, sarà possibile grazie al loro recupero, alla messa in rete e alla loro trasformazione funzionale, creare nuovi spazi attrezzati per un turismo sostenibile. Inoltre, trovandosi essi in punti strategici, è stato possibile collegare tracce già esistenti di sentieri che unissero ambiti opposti, cosicché ci sia uno scambio di tradizioni tra paesi non confinanti e la possibilità di conoscere i Monti Sibillini nelle sue diverse sfaccettature.
